Britain's General Wilson May Hold Key to Strategy

By LEWIS HAWKINS

LONDON, Jan. 24.—(AP)—A hefty, outwardly placid British gentleman-soldier will direct Allied Mediterranean operations which may well hold the key to this year's effort to break Hitler in western Europe.

GEN. SIR HENRY MAITLAND WILSON

Gen. Sir Henry Maitland Wilson, O.B.E., D.C.B., D.S.O., has fought creditably in three wars, but comes to his new post as Allied commander-in-chief for the Mediterranean as something of an enigma even to his colleagues.

His appointment to a command even wider than the one Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower formerly held came as a surprise, not because of any idea that he was unfitted, but because he is not the type that attracts public attention.

SOLID REPUTATION

But one thing is certain. Behind his heavy-jowled, poker face lies a mind which has won him a solid reputation as a tactician.

At 62 "Jumbo" Wilson is one of Britain's older general officers and one of the few still on active service wearing the Boer War ribbon.

Wilson followed his Suffolk forebears in making a career of the army and the start of the First Great War found him a major. It left him a lieutenant colonel with the Distinguished Service Order and three mentions in dispatches for service in France.

He went in post-war years to Sandhurst, as an instructor, and on to the Imperial Staff College at Camberly.

The Second Great War found him in command in Egypt with the rank of lieutenant general. The collapse of France in 1940 and the resultant release of heavy Italian forces gave him his first major test.

BROKE ITALIAN ARMY

As field executor for Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell, now Field Marshal Viscount Wavell, he broke the Italian army in Egypt and smashed it back 450 miles in 57 days, although the forces at his disposal never equalled those of his enemy.

This won him the military governorship of Cyrenaica, from which he was called to command the ill-fated expedition into Greece to uphold Britain's word.

Never having a chance to win in this lost cause, he is generally credited with having done as well as could have been expected. Many believe that the expedition threw off the Nazi timetable enough to delay the invasion of Russia and give the Soviets at least another previous two months of preparation.

Since then he has been British commander in the Middle East, heading the 9th and 10th Armies and discouraging any German idea of driving through the Turkish flank.

Famous players Canadian Corporation, wishing to co-operate in making available to the public this information of vital interest for the betterment of the health of the Canadian people, secured permission from the Royal Canadian Air Force to have printed, at their own expense, on regular 35 mm. film the R.C.A.F. 16 mm. "Training Table" film.

Famous Players also felt that distribution of the booklet "What They Eat to Be Fit" to the theatre audiences was necessary to assist those who saw the film to take full advantage of the suggestions given therein, and they have been supplied with 250,000 copies, free of cost, for distribution in their own 300 first-run houses. As the supply at individual theatres is limited, copies will be available to adults only on request to theatre attendants.

Showings of the film begin on Jan. 24 at Edmonton's Capitol theatre and at the Garneau on Feb. 10.

Noted Clergyman Dies in England

MORETON - IN-THE-MARSH, Gloucestershire, England, Jan. 24.—(CP)—Rev. Oliver Chase Quick, 58, regius professor of divinity at Oxford University, and a chaplain to the King since 1933, died here yesterday. Dr. Quick, who has written many religious books, was canon of Durham cathedral and professor of divinity and ecclesiastical history at the University of Durham from 1934-39.

Principles of local self-government in Sweden are based upon a system introduced in medieval times by the Roman Catholic church.

Flying "professors" in R.C.A.F. may envy their pupils who go overseas into action when they graduate, but their exceptional flying ability keeps them at home. They have taught more than 50,000 fully trained air crew men. Here, two of them watch a class.

Plans Developed

Turkey Is Ready for War On Notice of Few Hours

By WILLIAM KING

ANKARA, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Turkish war plans have been developed to the point where the step from neutrality to belligerency need take only a few hours. But Turkey's entry into the war still is dependent upon a myriad of extraneous conditions.

She will not enter the war unless she has what she considers adequate arms from Anglo-American arsenals. She frankly hopes the war will come to a sudden end and obviate the necessity of her participation.

Doubt and fears of Russia also give Turkey caution. The situation, eased by the Cairo conference, has been irritated again by the Russo-Polish controversy. Turkey feels keenly her position as a small country and thinks the outcome of the Polish border dispute might be a clear indication of what she may expect in the post-war world.

Lend-Lease Aid

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—(AP)—The United States government reported last night that lend-lease shipments of food and farm products during the first 11 months of 1943 amounted to 10,500,000,000 pounds, representing 93 per cent of the domestic supply of all meats, 3.6 per cent of all milk products, 11.9 per cent of eggs and various percentages of other items.

THIRD, FOURTH HAND

Most of the stories of German readiness to parley are third or fourth hand before they reach public notice. One of this week's best examples was a story which appeared as a dispatch from Basel to a newspaper in Geneva, whence it was relayed to Stockholm, where it was pounced upon and radioed to the United States.

Nazis Probe for "Way Out"

Hitler's Deadly Secret Weapon, The Peace Rumor, in Action

By GLENN BASS

Hitler already is using the deadliest of his secret weapons, the peace rumor. Some day, perhaps not too many months off, there will come a peace story that will be the real thing. But before that day there probably will be scores of reports of peace feelers, offers, negotiations which the reading public must assay.

Only patient, honest, enlightened statesmanship on the part of the United Nations leaders and an informed, intelligent skepticism among their people can prevent this Nazi secret weapon from doing their cause far more harm than all the rocket guns, atomic bombs and other fantastic machinery of destruction with which Goebbels feeds the fading Nazi hopes.

It is safe assumption that every Axis embassy or legation in the few neutral capitals has instructions not only for spreading false peace propaganda but also probing for every slightest opening for possible discussions of means of calling the whole terrible adventure off. The accredited diplomats will be supplemented by a host of less formal envoys, ostensible journalists, businessmen, tourists.

NOW IN "FULL FLOWER"

The peace stories flourish most when Germany's fortunes are lowest. The last fortnight has seen them in full flower.

For one thing Germany's need of some break, as she watches the Allied forces gather in Britain and the Red armies roll toward her eastern frontiers, was never greater.

For another the publication last Monday by Pravda, Moscow's Communist organ, of the "rumor from Cairo" that British personalities had been discussing a separate peace with Ribbentrop—whatever its purpose—disclosed weaknesses in the Allies' political defenses.

The objective of the Pravda move remains a mystery to this writer; none of the offered explanations seems convincing, least of all the thesis that it was accidental or inadvertent. At any rate it appears to have encouraged belief in Berlin that the time is opportune for a peace-rumor attack. Hence the floodgates are open.

Recover Bodies In Plane Crash

BAIE ST. PAUL, Que., Jan. 24.—(CP)—Searching parties yesterday removed from the wreckage of a Royal Canadian Air Force plane the bodies of two officers killed Friday when the plane crashed into a mountainside near Lac Berube, 25 miles from this north shore town 60 miles below Quebec. Alexandre Dion, a forestry guard at the Lac Galette tower near the lake, identified the victims as Ftl.-Lt. L. E. Price of Quebec City and an army dental corps captain from Montreal.

The Foot-Hills Tree Belt

In long range importance nothing is likely to be heard by the reconstruction committee of the House of Commons that will out-rank the preservation and perpetuation of the forest belt along the eastern slope of the Rockies. This subject was discussed by Premier Manning and Hon. H. E. Tanner in conference with the federal Minister of Resources. Mr. Crerar promised to give consideration to these presentations, and it is to be hoped that a clear-cut and permanent policy for regulation and control will result.

This area, in the main composed of land not suitable for other purposes, is admirably adapted for growing trees, and most of it is or has been clothed with forests. These have yielded and are still yielding building material of great value. But the tract is even more important because the wooded slopes conserve water, which flows down the streams which traverse the prairie country at the time of year when rainfall in much of the plains country is particularly needed and scant.

To allow these forests to be destroyed by cutting and fires would doom the "dry belt" to still more frequent and severe drought, and deprive the western country of a future lumber supply it now has. To protect and extend the forests will ensure this lumber supply in perpetuity, and maintain the reservoir which feeds the prairie streams during the crop season.

Looking to long range results, there are fewer ways in which public money can be better spent than in carrying out a protective and reforesting policy in the foot-hill zone. A forest is a diminishing asset only if it is wasted or neglected.

Exports Advertise Goods

During the first eleven months of 1943 Canadian exports, excluding gold, totalled $263,885,000 more than during the entire year 1942. In addition $129,000,000 of monetary gold was shipped abroad.

Exports of domestic commodities for the eleven month period were $2,688,904,000, or $395,131,000 more than for the full year 1942. Commodities imported amounted to $1,600,204,816.

To the end of November there had been 25 successive months during which our exports of domestic commodities were more than our imports. What munitions exports amounted to is not given, for security reasons no doubt.

Figures of this magnitude do not mean much to the ordinary individual. But the fact that, aside altogether from the export of war goods, we are and have been exporting much more than we imported has understandable significance.

For one thing this means that as a nation we are not borrowing but lending abroad. That the wartime credit balances will all be worth their face value cannot be supposed, for some of the countries to whom we are selling will not be able to pay. But that we are not running up debts abroad is definite, and altogether to the good.

And the commodities we are sending to other countries are making Canada and Canadian products better known the world around than they have ever been. Outsiders who are looking to the Dominion for civilian supplies are getting in the way of depending upon us for many of the things they have to import. That favorable regard will stand Canada in good stead when we look abroad for markets for our post-war surplus production.

The Baltic Offensive

In keeping with precedent, Berlin beat Moscow to the microphone with the news that the Russians had released still another offensive. This time the advance is up toward the northern end of the long front, a hundred miles or so below Leningrad.

According to the enemy announcer the Red forces set in motion there number at least 1,000,000 fresh troops. The general objective is supposed to be the railway junction of Pskov, at the south end of Lake Peipus. Capture of that point would leave the Nazis in the whole northern area only a narrow escape corridor between the Lake and the Gulf of Finland.

Comparative quiet has reigned on that northern sector, perhaps because, somewhat curiously, winter has been slower in coming there than farther south. Since the Russians are on the move, it is to be supposed the ground is now frozen and tanks, guns and trucks can roll ahead. As the armies of White Russia and the Ukraine have cut the north and south railways three hundred miles away, enemy troops cannot be shifted to the new combat area from southern sectors, even if any could be spared from the southern zone.

As in the Dnieper plateau, the Nazis at the northern end of the long line seem to be facing the choice of beating a retreat or of being cut off—and destroyed by weight of numbers and fighting machines.

The immediate effect of the German retreat—already under way—in this sector is to leave Finland out on the proverbial limb; and unless the Nazis can stop the Russian drive they will have to evacuate the three Baltic states or lose the army of occupation there. Hitler is thus in danger of losing the whole left flank of his subject-satellite line-up.

The Army Still Intact

For a year past Hitler has been losing territory in Russia as fast as he gained territory there in the first year of his onslaught. This is proof of the courage and tenacity of the Red army, of the quality of its generalship, and of the wisdom of the western Allies in supplying it with equipment and munitions of all kinds—even at the expense of discounting their own needs and delaying their own plans.

But one point must not be overlooked. With all his blitzkrieging and his spectacular march of conquest, Hitler never accomplished the one thing needful to victory. He did not and could not destroy the Russian army. Always it kept slipping out of tight corners, stepping back to avoid crushing blows. When the Nazis could go no farther, there a few miles away was the Red army, intact, unbeaten, gathering strength to strike—as strike it did at Stalingrad and after.

The Russians are now in much the same position as their enemies were something more than a year ago. They have won splendid victories, gained enormous territory, killed, wounded and captured some millions of German soldiers. But the Hitler army has not been destroyed. It is still intact, a fighting force, a potential danger. It is back-stepping and thus shortening its supply lines, while the pursuing Red forces are lengthening the mileage over which must come everything they require.

This does not suggest that the Fuehrer can extricate his forces out of the present traps without further heavy losses, nor that his army will be able—like the Russians—to turn on their pursuers and stage another march to the east. But it does carry a warning that we should not underestimate the problem the Russians are facing, nor expect them to achieve the impossible. Unless they can smash the opposing army definitely, there is a limit beyond which they cannot be counted on to carry their sweeping offensive.

Mussolini some years ago drained the Pontine marshes south of Rome and turned them into wheat fields. The Nazis destroyed the drainage works and flooded the marshes. This blocked the Apennine Way, along which the Allied 5th army has been advancing. Wherefore amphibious Allied troops leap-frogged up the coast and landed beyond the re-made marshes. They thus gained 20 miles or more on the coastal road to Rome without heavy fighting, besides threatening to flank the Nazi line. Unless the Italians can rebuild the drainage works they will not be able to sow crops on their former wheat lands this year. The Nazis, it may be inferred, are not making themselves any more popular in Italy by using that country as a battleground.

The Saturday Night Review

Summary of Broadcast Delivered Over CFRN Jan. 22

By HAROLD L. WEIR

On the whole, this has been a cheerful week.

The German collapse on the Eastern front is proceeding at greater speed than anyone had expected, and the chance that the Red armies may reach Berlin before the end of June is no longer a pipe-dream.

Operations on other fronts are going along very satisfactorily and, in spite of the loss of valuable time, even the attack by way of Burma is beginning to take shape.

The actual date of further landings on the European continent is, naturally, a most closely kept secret. What can be said, however, is that nothing now remains to be done by way of preparation. We are credibly informed that everything is ready.

There is no doubt, of course, that things are likely to happen very quickly in the next few months—or even weeks. And fairly high officials in both London and Washington have permitted themselves, in private, to be a little more expansive than they have been in the past.

Publicly these officials keep to the line that it will be a long war. This is done on the very sound supposition that no successful war can be waged if people spend their time peering around the corner for the approach of peace.

Slips

But, privately, these officials have let slip a few significant facts which permit one to build up the following probabilities:

That the invasion of Europe will be a winter invasion because, for many reasons, spring will be too late. That February is the likely month. That the exact time will be no secret to the Nazis because we will be pounding the French coast well in advance.

That the offensive will be a tremendous operation, combining a cross-channel invasion with heavy drives from Russia and Italy, plus all-out air attacks everywhere. That the Balkan invasion, urged by Mr. Churchill, has met with stiff opposition from Allied commanders and probably will not take place.

That the big operation will require approximately three months and twenty days. So, if the invasion should start by the middle of February, it should end in early June. It is significant to note that this coincides so patly with the opinion of many experts that the Russians should be able to reach Berlin by June.

Naturally, the military experts are not saying these things out loud because they fear the public might overlook the tragic fact that the days between February and June will be the bloodiest days in the history of the world.

This forecast, you will understand, is based on private information and may be entirely wrong. My ubiquitous and abusive critic who declares I am a rotten prophet will please note that I am not attempting to prophesy.

Disagreement

Another piece of private information which has leaked out since Mr. Roosevelt's return to Washington, and which I offer as a matter of interest without, by any means guaranteeing its truth, is this:

That relations between Mr. Churchill and Mr. Roosevelt at Cairo and Teheran were mildly strained when differences of opinion arose between them.

It is said that Chiang Kai-shek arrived unexpectedly at Cairo and neither Mr. Churchill nor Mr. Roosevelt was on hand to meet him. Mr. Roosevelt, to remedy this oversight, is said to have rushed to an effort, to be extra-courteous, waxed over-enthusiastic about plans to reopen the Burma road.

When, however, the three leaders sat down later in conference and the subject was broached, Mr. Churchill said no. He pointed out that Indian troops would not fight for the British reconquest of Burma, that it would be unwise to let Chinese troops fight in Burma and that without native troops it would be difficult to get manpower for a Burma campaign.

He is said to have favored a campaign to the south of Burma for the purpose of retaking the Malay Peninsula and Singapore, now Japan's most powerful fortress.

This difference is said to have caused hard feelings.

Hong Kong

Another breach is said to have occurred when Mr. Roosevelt urged that Hong Kong should be ceded immediately to the Chinese. Mr. Churchill objected on the very solid ground that the British created Hong Kong after acquiring it fairly, that it was entirely waste land until the British took it over.

In this, he would appear to have been quite logical. For there is no more sense or reason to returning Hong Kong to the Chinese just because it is adjacent to China than there would be to returning Gibraltar to the Spaniards because that territory is adjacent to Spain.

Now these differences of opinion may or may not have occurred. However, during the past few days they have been used quite freely by isolationists and anti-British groups in the United States in a whispering campaign to prove that British-American relations are near the breaking point.

Of course, they prove nothing of the kind. If they did occur—and I rather hope they did—they simply prove that Roosevelt and Churchill met in a healthy and a wholesome way.

A conference that failed to generate a little heat would be a pretty flat and useless sort of a thing. You can rub two dead mackerels together without getting more than a faint whoo-o-osh. But when tempered steel meets tempered steel there is bound to be sparks. We can thank God we have the kind of leaders who do strike fire.

Peace Feelers

In Moscow, there is apparently still a feeling that Britain is listening too assiduously to peace feelers put out by the Germans.

This week, the party journal, Pravda, printed a story of British-German peace discussions which was vigorously denied in London. Later, Pravda triumphantly reprinted a story from the London Times of last Sunday which told of German peace feelers through Turkey.

Now it is difficult to understand Russia's viewpoint, here, that the British are guilty of a breach of treaty by listening to what the Germans have to say.

I haven't any doubt in the world that scores of German renegades and agents and fanatics have been very readily accorded appointments by British officials in order to discuss the situation. The British would be foolish to pass up any chance to study the workings of the unique German mind or to gain any fortuitous information about German thinking, even if that thinking did represent only a minority.

Even these very ordinary "events" which occur in the course of any long war cannot possibly be construed as an attempt on Britain's part to negotiate a separate peace.

And, candidly, I can't think that Russia is serious in hinting at such a charge. Perhaps we are too much inclined to think that private Russian opinion is bound to express the official viewpoint, just as Russia sometimes thinks that Tim Buck or Wendell Willkie or Professor Laski speak for Canada, America and England.

Progress

Speaking of Tim Buck reminds me that this week a good Communist friend wrote in to object to my remarks last Saturday about Russia. He declared that I had challenged Russia's good faith.

Of course, I did nothing of the kind. And I object to words being put in my mouth especially when the texts of these broadcasts are printed word for word in The Edmonton Bulletin each Monday where anyone who so desires may check his ears with his eyes.

However, my Communist friend wrote this: that would I not say that Russia had made tremendous industrial, productive and cultural advances since the Revolution.

Of course I admit it. In the past twenty-eight years Russia has made miraculous progress. And then my friend concludes:

I quote, "You can't possibly point, anywhere in the world, to such an achievement under democracy."

Well, I can point to such an achievement under democracy. It may be a tremendous blow to those who are bowed with sorrow over Britain's bedevilment of India to learn that the industrial, cultural and productive advances of India under British rule have been infinitely greater than the similar advances of Russia under communism.

That statement can be proved, book, chapter and verse.

Just one brief word about so-called juvenile delinquency which has popped into the news again, this week, in a big way.

There is a terrific row about juvenile delinquency. Some say it is dreadfully high. Some, quite as emphatically, say it is much below normal. Perhaps our horrible modern cult of child worship has something to do with it.

However, among those who have permitted themselves to become alarmed over its alleged increase there has grown up a school which declares that juvenile delinquency results from the paid employment of young people.

Just to show what utter poppycock the experts sometimes talk, I should like to point out that many of the people who are getting so excited about the juvenile delinquency caused by young people finding jobs at high wages are exactly the same people who in pre-war days were hysterically blaming juvenile delinquency on the lack of well paid jobs for young people.

Important

I would be highly culpable if I closed this broadcast without a reference to what I am assured is the most important news of the day, a matter which takes precedence in the minds of millions of people. I am told, over the military campaigns, international relations and the other affairs we have been discussing tonight.

I refer to the painful, the terrible, the atrocious shortage of elastic. I take my information from a sprightly publication called "Corset Review" which offers a loud lament under the highly intriguing title, "Will North America's corsets stretch from now until next May?"

That is the date, I learn, when the first synthetic rubber will be available for commercial use. The "Corset Review" then proceeds to unlimber these harrowing facts:

"The corset industry is on the brink of the most crucial period in its history. It cannot take the risk of placing on the market garments made of synthetic rubber which are not sufficiently perfected to function properly as a corset. War or no war, women's figures have not changed, and women still have figure problems. Corsets still are designed to redistribute the flesh."

I wish I had time to read more of this. It's the most heart-rending thing I ever saw. And it certainly does readjust one's sense of values.

Here were so many of us stupidly believing that the world's greatest problem was the encirclement of Germany, when actually it is the encirclement of several million unruly feminine tumblers.

Here we were worrying our heads off about the redistribution of geographical lines in Europe when, after all, this is merely small potatoes beside the redistribution of a few million tons of female beef.

I apologize for putting the lesser before the greater. However, we live and learn.

Parsley, spruce bark and lawn grass are hailed by a chemist as valuable sources of Vitamin C. All right, we'll make the effort and eat that stuff they sprinkle on our boiled potatoes, but we'll be darned if we'll cut the lawn with our teeth or go out in the woods and gnaw trees.

Canadian Price vs. World Price

Wheat Has Been Canada's Important Annual Cash Product

By HON. H. H. STEVENS
The Vancouver Province

For a generation or more wheat has been Canada's chief annual cash product. Each year Canadian wheat has been the main factor in settling Canada's trade account abroad. Also the purchasing power thus placed in the hands of Canadian producers has enabled them to buy clothing, furniture, implements and other foodstuffs, and as well to pay for the services of thousands of foreign Canadians, on the railways, in the elevators, on the lake steamers, etc.

So then it is, or ought to be, clear to the Canadian people that wheat is a most valuable element in our national economy. This fact does not appear to be fully realized by the average citizen, or by the business leader, nor, indeed, by the government.

Our major exports consist of farm products—wheat, bacon, cheese and livestock, and pulp and paper, lumber, fish, minerals, etc., but pre-eminent among these is wheat. The leading market is, of course, Great Britain and the continent of Europe.

The price of wheat is determined very largely on the Baltic exchange, London, and on the Liverpool exchange. The outstanding operators in the world wheat market are Ranks, the great milling company of England, and the international brokerage houses of Buntings, Dreyfuss and the Continental.

These four powerful companies have dominated the wheat market for the past 20 years.

These powerful interests operate on a "buyers' market" theory. They are not interested in the producer. They invariably pit the producing countries, one against the other. The three big exporting countries are Canada, Argentina and Australia. Canadian wheat is by far the best wheat (equalled only by Russian hard wheat, but Russian exports have been limited for many years), and brings approximately 10 cents a bushel more than Argentine or Australian wheat. The four big operators mentioned above manipulate the market, when wheat is plentiful, so as to bear the price down to the lowest possible point.

"I told the Joneses you were in Ottawa on a secret mission, so don't you tell them you were selling paper towels!"

The only conceivable source of help for the Canadian farmer is the Federal Government. It is interesting to note how this assistance has been rendered in recent years. Two or three years ago the minimum price fixed in Canada by its government for wheat, was 70 cents a bushel, base Fort William, which means about 50 cents to the farmer at the country elevator. Later the minimum was raised to 80 cents at Fort William, or 70 cents to the farmer. It costs from 85 cents to $1.05 to raise a bushel of wheat, so the price fixed by the Government of Canada was below cost of production.

In September, 1943, with a flourish of trumpets, the Canadian Government fixed the price at $1.25 a bushel, and closed the Winnipeg exchange.

Now it is interesting to observe what farmers in other countries were getting for their wheat during this period.

For 10 months ending November, 1943, the Canadian price averaged $1.07, while Chicago price averaged $1.47, Brazil $1.45. South Africa having a fixed price of $2.37. In other words, the Canadian farmer got 40 cents a bushel less than his American neighbor.

If we take the January 4, 1944, quotation, it shows the Chicago price $1.69 for May quotation, against a fixed Canadian price of $1.25. It is true that should the government realize a profit out of handling the Canadian wheat, there may be a possible participation by the producer, but this is problematical. The point I am making is that the price of wheat in Canada has been "fixed" by the government at an altogether too low a level.

This unfair condition follows long years of disastrous prices for wheat. If we take the years 1931-1935 inclusive we find the average was 65 cents a bushel, Fort William, or 46 cents country point.

The present fixed price is barely cost of production. Furthermore, during the long weary years when the farmer received about half cost of production, he paid the railways a compulsory profitable freight rate, and the elevators a remunerative fee for handling. In both instances those handling the wheat were paid the same, whether the market value was 60 cents or $1.25. It was the farmer who absorbed the loss.

In the recent international conference on wheat, at Hot Springs, Virginia, it was abundantly clear that the chief advisors were Ranks, Buntings, Dreyfuss, et al., and the policy they will advise will be founded on their pre-war practices. These were inimical to the interests of the producer.

It is the imperative duty of the Canadian Government—indeed its pre-eminent responsibility—to protect Canada's interests in respect to this product, which forms so important an element in our economy. It is a matter of fundamental significance, and political expediency or chicanery ought not to interfere.

Secrets of Happy Family Life

Famous Circus Family Is Example of Living in Unison

By MARY ALICE QUAYNE

During the last few years there has been a lot of lamenting about the disappearance of family life. First we said that the automobile and the movies were ending the old era of home as the centre of society. Then we laid it on the Russians and their revolutionary social experiments. And now we are worried about war work for blacksmithing to tumbling. The capital he used to buy his first circus was a bonus from the king for attention to the royal horses.

And they really "housekeep" with Mamma the expert at cooking as well as having served her time as trapeze performer, tumbler, rider, even contortionist. Her 16 children were born in almost as many different countries.

This family of riders started their circus dynasty in Italy when their great-grandfather graduated from blacksmithing to tumbling. The capital he used to buy his first circus was a bonus from the king for attention to the royal horses.

This great-grandfather had a large family, in fact 20 children, which was large even in his day. Two of his sons have stayed in the circus and their numerous progeny have carried on the tradition. The family never can quite keep track of how many there are.

But according to one of the grandsons, from whom I got the story, they stick together in spite of the roving life of the circus. They mix art and domesticity in an alluring way with their circle of intimates ranging from midlets to giants and open house being the social order wherever home happens to be.

Millions of tons
OF NICKEL ORE... BUT
NO MARKETS

In 1919 the future looked black for the Canadian Nickel industry. Because of the demand for tough Nickel Steel for battleships and ordnance, its markets had expanded during the first world war. Now these war markets were gone. A few months later Canada's Nickel plants had to close down, the mines ceased to operate.

Steps were taken to transform this war industry into a great thriving peacetime industry. Scientists were set to work developing new Nickel alloys. Engineers were sent out to seek new uses for Canadian Nickel in the automotive, chemical, electrical, radio and numerous other industries. Step by step new world markets were built up. Within ten years the production of Nickel in Canada had far surpassed the previous peak of wartime production.

Today Canada's Nickel has again been diverted to war purposes. But now this industry looks forward with confidence to the return of peace. Plans are ready to develop and expand old and new peacetime markets so that the Nickel industry may continue, through its own enterprise, to make substantial contribution to Canada's economic welfare.

THE ACHIEVEMENT OF THE PAST
IS THE PROMISE OF THE FUTURE

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW by Hal Dean

NO PRONOUNCEMENT has yet been made by the A.A.H.A. regarding the attitude to be adopted in connection with the so-called "shadow" Allan Cup playdowns for this province. It is reasonably obvious though that some sort of an ersatz series is being encouraged with the official benediction to follow as a matter of course.

It seems odd that the association is so anxious to supply artificial legs to the senior game in Alberta, when what remained of a very frail body was given the coup de grace by the Army-Air Force - Navy non-participation declarations of recent date.

And it would appear to be more in keeping with the dictates of sound judgment, even forgetting entirely the spirit of the times for the A.A.H.A. to lay a firm foundation for senior hockey of the future, rather than work the pulmonary overtime on an almost inanimate body which only a declaration of peace can revive.

MINOR HOCKEY NEEDS HELP

A MORE logical course to help the game in Alberta would be the initiation of an energetic program for the encouragement of minor hockey in the province. There is no doubt of the need.

Midget, juvenile and junior hockey have been struggling along chiefly on its own power, but with some greatly appreciated financial assistance from the C.A.H.A. distributed by the A.A.H.A. And there are bantams too. It has been a notorious fact that minor hockey in Alberta has never received the encouragement which it is justly entitled. The real work has been done mostly by athletic clubs here, not forgetting stout hearted citizens who have given generously of their time and dipped into their own pockets to keep the youngsters going along. The payments coming from the N.H.L. via the C.A.H.A. of recent years for amateurs taken up also has been a real help.

HOW ABOUT THE BUFFALOES? IF ALBERTA must be represented in the senior playdowns, the Calgary Buffaloes would seem to be in a preferred spot, even although they may not possess anything like the power which carried them to the western intermediate title in a canter last spring.

In any event, the club has existed as an active organization for a considerable time, even if a little bolstering here and there were desirable. Furthermore, the team has been playing regularly all winter, which is supposed to count for something when it comes to training for hockey playdowns.

Possibly though, a few good players handicapped by an accumulation of hockey inactivity of varying periods with a season and a half as a minimum, under the very unfavorable conditions as presently hold in this city, can supply an alternative answer. The cards would appear to be stacked against them.

One Berth Still Vacant

Manahan, Matthews, Rice Qualify in Royal Consols

THREE out of the four berths to which the Royal Curling Club is entitled in the northern Alberta British Consols playdowns were filled as a result of games played during the week-end. A tie in section "A" between Aircraft Repair and Harold Ritchie rinks for the second entry from that group is still to be settled.

Whit Matthews with five successive wins and Gerry Rice with four victories as against one loss, qualified in section "B", while Cliff Manahan's rink came through with five in a row in section "A". Aircraft Repair and Ritchie quartets wound up with three wins and a pair of losses and they will play off during this coming week-end.

A total of 12 rinks competed in the Royal Consols this year and they were divided into two sections, "A" and "B", with two qualifiers to come from each.

In launching his campaign for a sixth Alberta title, Cliff Manahan defeated Ritchie 9-5, Aircraft Repair 12-5, Dr. Broadfoot 10-6 and Ed Perry 10-6. Other members of the Manahan rink are Ross Manahan, Lloyd McIntyre and Harold Macdonald.

Whit Matthews' victims were R. V. Perry 14-12, Ritchie 12-8, Kemp 10-7, Bert Ross 10-8 and George McLaughlin 8-6. The loss to Matthews was the only setback suffered by the Gerry Rice aggregation.

Fred Kemp had a bad week-end, losing four in a row, one of them being a 14-ender to George McLaughlin by a score of 12-10 on the 4 o'clock draw Saturday and he didn't play in the last round. Harold Ritchie lost out 13-12 to Aircraft Repair on the 1 o'clock draw yesterday and Ritchie edged out Broadfoot 10-9 in the morning in 13 ends.

Following are the complete results:

SATURDAY, 1:30 P.M.

Ritchie 5, Manahan 9; Perry 8, Broadfoot 15; Aircraft Repair 10, Marsden 9; Rice 11, McLaughlin 10; Matthews 14, Price 12; Kemp 11, Ross 13.

Howe Scores Three Goals In Last Canto

DETROIT, Jan. 24.—(AP)—In the most decisive victory in National Hockey League history the Detroit Red Wings blasted the New York Rangers 15-0 last night before 12,293 spectators.

With nine players contributing goals, the Wings got progressively better with two goals the first period, five the second and eight in the third. Syd Howe bagged three in the last period to smash his club's all-time goal-production record. His 10-year total is 149, one more than Herbie Lewis amassed for Detroit.

The victory put the Wings into third place ahead of the Boston Bruins, who lost to Montreal. Detroit is undefeated in seven games.

Young Ken McAuley made 43 saves in the Ranger net, but it wasn't enough to hold down the score. Meanwhile, rookie Connie Dion handled only nine chances in the Detroit cage while gaining his first major league shutout. He is unbeaten in five games since his discharge from the Canadian army. It was believed the biggest shutout ever scored in the league. Detroit blanked Montreal Canadiens 10-0 two years ago for the previous record.

Hanch Stops 19 in Last Canto

Navy Takes Over Second Place By Beating E.A.C. Squad 5-2

H.M.C.S. Nonsuch moved into sole possession of second place in the City Junior Hockey League by defeating Edmonton Athletic Club 5-2 in Saturday night's game at 119 street rink. The Sailors are now just three points from the leading Canadians.

Navy took a one-goal lead in the first period, added two more in the second and split even in the final session, being held to a single counter by some excellent net-minding by Ralph Hanch who turned aside 19 shots in the last 20 minutes.

Bus Younger and Jerry Dea shared equally in four of the goals for the winners, the fifth going to Jim Frew. Chris Cairns and Alex Senio netted the E.A.C. markers.

YOUNGER SCORES FIRST

Navy went ahead after two and a half minutes, Younger converting a pass from Jack Ingram and it was not until 11 minutes later that Chris Cairns, former Kitscoy boy who turned out with the Canadians earlier in the season, combined on a snappy combination effort with Clem Kerr to deadlock the score at 1-1.

Jim Frew gave the Sailors the lead again with a few seconds to go in the period, Joe Slattery setting up the goal.

Navy collected two more in the middle stanza, Younger securing his second counter for the night with the assistance of right-winger Pete Shirvell at 1:28. Dea raised the margin to three at 18:30.

Younger picking up his third point by supplying the pass.

E.A.C. GOALIE BUSY

The puck remained in the E.A.C. zone for most of the third period and goalie Ralph Hanch kicked out a lot of rubber in the 20 minutes.

He actually stopped 19 shots and at least a dozen more missed his citadel by inches. By contrast Bill Lancaster had only seven to handle.

Dea was sent off for holding two minutes after the start of the period, and although E.A.C. endeavored to press an attack they couldn't get through and in fact Navy got in at least three dangerous rushes although short-handed.

With the return of Dea the Nonsuchers completely took over. Hanch had to make two quick saves from Frank Quigley and Bus Younger and R. Hanchman fired a close-in shot after taking the puck from Jack Ingram. "Sammy" Samson also got in one.

Hanch had to stop nine pucks within a period of less than three minutes, before Dea came on from serving his second penalty just in time to pick up a loose puck and race in to raise the score to 5-1. Shirvell finished the goal.

Alex Senio's goal for the E.A.C. came from a blazing shot from right wing. He took the pass from Joe Trofimuk just outside the blue line and moved in fast.

LINEUPS

Navy—Lancaster, Samson, J. Ingram, Younger, Dea, Shirvell, Quigley, Frew, Slattery, Hanchman, Boyce.

E.A.C.—Hansen, J. Ingram, Kerr, Cairns, Brown, Petaske, Milner, Trofimuk, Grant, Thomas, Senio, Robertson.

Officials: W. Rungie and H. Wamer.

CANADIAN SPORTSHOTS

By CHARLIE EDWARDS

TORONTO, Jan. 24.—(CP)—

National Hockey League governors presented a study in map-reading at their meeting here Friday. Managing director Red Dutton carried a worried expression as he sits a guy burdened with the cares of management. He not only acts like a diplomat, he's beginning to look like one (and only a year ago that remark would have caused a diplomatic crisis.)

Lester Patrick and Bill Tobin of the lowly Rangers and Black Hawks had little to say and Ross of Boston was not much more voluble. Rangers' sorry position was reflected by Lester's silence because a Patrick of less than 10,000 words an hour is as unusual as a Ranger victory.

The Canadians' delegation of Senator Raymond and Tommy Gorman were models of ability befitting representatives of a potential title club. Frank Selke of the second-place Leafs was mighty friendly.

The tip-off on the N.H.L. future, however, was Jack Adams' geniality. It is being noted around that Detroit Red Wings are likely to be the team to beat before the season ends and obviously Adams thinks so too.

Jack was in a jovial mood as the governors entertained the press. He ribbed his fellow governors playfully, pushed little shafts into random conversation and was the life of the party generally.

Adams ribbed Dutton about his vanished Brooklyn Americans. "Remember the time the photographer wanted a picture of some of your boys when Americans were on a short losing spell of only about seven games?" Adams asked Red.

"Red just about threw the guy out of the rink, but being in one of his more congenial moods, decided to let the fellow take an action shot. He picked Lorne Carr to carry the puck in on Charlie Conacher and goalie Earl Robertson. "Americans didn't have any too many hockey players at the time anyway and when Carr tried to wheel past Conacher, Charlie gave him the body and Carr crashed into the boards, injuring a shoulder. At the time Carr's slick caught Robertson across the forehead and Robbie needed nine stitches to close the cut."

"The photographer took one peek at the mild look in Dutton's eyes, huddled the boards and is probably running yet."

NEW YORK, Jan. 24. — Baseball received two robust shots in the arm when (1) it was announced that three wealthy Boston contractors had purchased a majority interest in the anemic Braves, and (2) Frank Shaughnessy, president of the International League assures that the double-A circuits would operate through the 1944 season.

It was heartening, indeed, to note that three hard-headed Boston business men—no strangers to the Braves—were willing not only to buy up the majority stock, but also to put up a large fund for operating purposes. This fund will keep the Braves solvent during the war, and enable them to step out in a big-time fashion in peacetime.

We had a telephone chat early Saturday with one of the Braves new controllers, a modest conservative fellow who declined to be quoted. He said, "Naturally, we can not announce any policies until after the New York meeting of the post-war planning committee on Feb. 5, and the New York meeting of the National League on Feb. 8. I cannot answer your question as to whether we favor expansion or curtailment of the farm system after the war. I can say only that we favor anything that will result in giving Boston a Top-flight National League team."

NOT NEW DIRECTORS
Our informant explained that the three new controllers—Joseph Maney, Guido L. Ruzo and Louis R. Perini—actually are not new directors. They have been associated with the Braves since 1941 and have been on the board of directors previously, he said.

Each of the new controllers is a contractor, but associated with non-connected firms—firms that build roads, dams, mills, bridges. At times their firms have worked on joint projects. All three are enthusiastic baseball fans, although none ever played it professionally.

It is our impression—perhaps wrong—that these three builders will go in for post-war farming in a big way, since each is an expert in organization—a man who appreciates the value of having men trained properly for their jobs. At present the Braves have only one operating farm club—Hartford, Conn., of the Eastern League. They retain an interest in the non-operating Evansville, Ind., club of the Three-I circuit.

PHILLIES HAVE BACKING
This change may complete the financial rehabilitation of the National League's perennially weaker teams—the Phillies and the Braves. The Phillies have the backing of wealthy young Bob Carpenter; and the Braves now apparently are well fortified financially. This will mean much not only to Philadelphia and Boston, but to all of the National League.

Prexy Shaughnessy of the International League spiked rumors that the upper-bracket minor circuits might be unable to carry on next season because of manpower shortage. He said there would be sufficient players for the International, Pacific Coast League and American Association to carry on, at least. They will come from four sources: players classified as 4-F; army discharges; fathers who will not be called; and youngsters under 18.

Canadiens Tounce Bruins Twice in Week-End Games

BOSTON, Jan. 24. — (CP) — The pace-setting Montreal Canadiens last night gained their first Boston victory over the Bruins in 18 starts since Nov. 26, 1940, by outskating Art Ross' injury-riddled forces for a 4-1 triumph before a 12,200 crowd, despite a sensational goal-tending exhibition by Bert Gardiner.

Only half of the Montreal goals were of the earned variety and the hard-working Gardiner was not really broken until the 15th minute of the final period, when Ray Gettiffe rifled a 10-foot angle shot into the empty corner of his cage.

The first Montreal goal, made during the first minute of second-period action, was a gift, for the puck was pushed into the Boston cage by little Tommy Brennan, one of the five farm hands now playing for the Bruins.

Late in that same period, Gardiner stopped big Mike McMahon's 40-foot drive, only to have the puck dribble in through his legs. After Gettiffe and Fern Majeau chalked up the other Montreal tallies, Buzz Boll saved the Bruins from being shut out for the first time this season by batting Art Jackson's well-timed forward pass, with a bit more than a minute remaining.

LINEUPS

MONTREAL ALWAYS AHEAD ON SATURDAY
MONTREAL, Jan. 24. — (CP) — Montreal Canadiens thrashed Boston Bruins 6-2 here Saturday night before a sell-out crowd of 12,000 fans.
Canadiens started scoring 48 seconds after the opening whistle. Canadiens had run the count to 3-0 before the period ended and were never in danger after that. Defenceman Glen Harmon scored the second counter at the seven-minute mark and Fern Majeau added another less than a minute later. Missing their star centre, Bill Cowley, the Bruins were penned in their own end most of the period, and even when Defenceman Mike McMahon of Canadiens went off for high-sticking, the Boston squad were unable to organize a successful attack.
Murph Chamberlain rapped in the fourth Montreal goal midway through the middle frame, and it wasn't until the 19-minute mark of that period that Bruins were able to get a score, when veteran Art

Bracken Declares Canadian Farmers Need "New Deal"

MONTREAL, Jan. 24. — (CP) — John Bracken, national leader of the Progressive-Conservative party, asking for a "new deal" for the Canadian farmer, Saturday, said "One third of the Canadian population depends on agriculture while they only are getting about one-fourth of Canada's resources."
Speaking at Montreal Milk Producers' Association, Mr. Bracken added "There is no reason why the farmers of this country must work longer hours for less pay than in any other industry."

"Why should the farmer's wife," he asked, "have to work long hours and his children deprived of the opportunities afforded by proper educational facilities? Farmers deserve a new deal in this country and although war has made inroads on agriculture a good proportion of Canadians still depend on the land for a living."

LONDON, Jan. 24. — (CP) Cable)—Everton scored their fifth successive triumph in the league football cup qualifying competition Saturday and stayed at the top of the 65-team table.

Playing at Liverpool before the biggest crowd of the day's soccer schedule — 23,221 — the leaders whipped Liverpool 4-1.
Bath City moved into sole possession of second place by downing Bristol 3-0. Leicester dropped into the third spot on a basis of a lower goal average, although trimming Mansfield 5-2.

The biggest upset was when Manchester City defeated their hometown rivals, Manchester United, for the first United loss in 15 games and first home defeat of the season. The score was 3-1.
A crowd of 12,000 saw Aston Villa trounce Wolverhampton 4-0 while Blackpool defeated Bolton 6-0 and Coventry and West Bromwich drew 2-2. Lovell's Athletic rang up the biggest score of the day defeating Swansea 11-2 with Bill Owen scoring four.

In a representative match, the R.A.F. beat the Football Association eleven 4-2. The game, played at Bristol, was featured by such outstanding footballers as Denis Compton who scored one for the R.A.F. and Leslie Smith, Brentford outside wing, who counted twice for the R.A.F.

Tottenham strengthened their lead in the South League by edging out Aldershot 1-0. Brighton following a disastrous spell ran up their highest score of the season in beating Luton 8-0. Arsenal still unable to find last year's championship form, drew 1-1 with Fulham, while Chelsea beat Charlton 5-2.

Dumbarton and Queen's Park battled to a scoreless draw in the Scottish Southern League where the leading Glasgow Rangers defeated Clyde 3-0.

Fennell, North Hill club, still in the running. Ice permitting, this event will be played off next Friday. Only two of the 26 games in the City competition were decided, while the Veterans event has still to be started. The latter two competitions will be resumed on 12 hours notice.

Italy Is Getting Allied Supplies Of Food, Fuel

By CLINTON B. CONGER

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin Copyright, 1944, by British United Press

AMGOT HEADQUARTERS IN ITALY, Jan. 24.—Food and fuel are pouring into Italy to bring relief to the impoverished Italians and to bring Italy back into the war as fully as possible and as quickly as possible.

The Allies are shipping into Italy wheat, flour, cheese, evaporated milk, soup, dried vegetables, some sugar, medicines and medical supplies, petroleum products and coal. However, the coal imports form only a small percentage of the 12,000,000 tons annually which Germany supplies Italy, since the principal coal consumption is in the north, still German-held territory.

Honest and earnest co-operation is characterizing the Italian government's relations with the Allied Mediterranean commission throughout, particularly in bringing Italy back into the war on the Allied side to the fullest possible extent.

FOUR DIVISIONS
The structure of the Allied administration is divided into four sections: the economic and administrative, chairman, Viscount Stansgate, deputy chairman, U.S. minister Henry Grady; political section, chairman, Harold Caccia of the British foreign office, with Samuel Reber, U.S. state department, as deputy chairman; military chairman, Rear Adm. R. R. McGrigor of the Royal Navy; communications, chairman, Capt. Ellery W. Stone, U.S. naval reserve, former head of the Postal Telegraph Company.

Under these sections, their sub-commissions operate either in co-operation with the Allied military government of occupied territory (AMGOT) and with the various branches of the Italian government, or directly as administrative organs.

The economic and administrative section covers 10 sub-commissions, industry and commerce, public utilities and mines, labor, education, finance, legal, agriculture, interior, public health, public safety.

The political and communications sections each have two sub-commissions, the former foreign affairs, and displaces persons and internment; the latter firstly administering internal transport, shipping and shipyards; second telephone and telegraph communications and postal service. The military section has five sub-commissions, for navy, army and air prisoners of war, war material, factories, and disposal.

Press Reporting Of Murder Rapped

VANCOUVER, Jan. 24.—(CP)—

Newspaper treatment of the case of Charles Hawken, charged with the murder of Francis Boland here last Dec. 13, may draw comment from Chief Justice Wendell Farris supreme court Tuesday, he said Saturday, as he adjourned until then Hawken's application for bail.

Hawken, who claims the shots which killed Boland were fired in self-defense during an attempted holdup by the latter, was committed for trial Friday. A coroner's jury found Hawken fired "while under definite threat of his life" at the hands of Boland, but the case was re-opened on instructions of Attorney-General R. L. Maitland.

Defence Counsel Gordon S. Wismer, K.C., said at Saturday's hearing "articles in the newspapers have very materially affected the public mind against the accused," while C. M. O'Brien, K.C., crown prosecutor, referred to "undue newspaper publicity" and asserted it was an obstruction to the course of justice to publish articles which might prejudice the jury.

Conditional Sales Of Flour Banned Under New Order

OTTAWA, Jan. 24.—(CP)—

Conditional sales of flour with sales of millfeed made by millers to food dealers, in turn, by feed dealers to farmer customers, have been prohibited by a Prices Board order announced last night.

The prohibition was effected by an amendment of the board's conditional sales order No. 302, and by a directive to the milling industry. The directive is effective on all contracts for the sale of millfeed made after Jan. 21.

The board said its action removes the basis of a complaint on the part of many farmers that both millers and feed dealers were imposing upon them the conditional purchase of supplies of flour with each purchase of millfeed, a by-product of flour.

4 Airmen Forced To Use Parachutes Are Found Unhurt

HALIFAX, Jan. 24.—(CP)—

Four R.C.A.F. fliers who parachuted from a training plane over Halifax county were found unhurt Saturday after three of them had slept most of the previous night in the woods. The airmen had been forced to leap into the darkness after their machine ran into thick fog on a flight from Saint John, N.B., to Halifax. Unable to land here, the Anson trainer did not have enough fuel to make another airport.

The fliers were: PO. R. B. Loughlan of Port Arthur, Ont., pilot and captain of the aircraft; PO. M. J. J. T. LaBerge of Verdun, Que. Fit. Sgt. K. A. Gwynne of Cornwall, Ont., and Sgt. Oscar R. Conrad of Saint John.

Isley Asserts Liberal Policy Best After War

MONTREAL, Jan. 24.—Finance

Minister J. L. Isley Saturday, said: "I think Liberalism, not Conservatism or Socialism, will provide the best solutions for post-war problems."

Saying that one of the enduring principles of the Liberal philosophy was freedom, he added in an address before members of the Reform club: "It is a Liberal belief that the best and fairest policy is to let the people do what they want to do, subject to their not harming others or depriving others of their freedom in exercising their own."

CONTROLS NECESSARY

"True, extensive controls were necessary in time of war and not all controls could cease at the end of the war. The Liberal objective, however, should be to permit as much freedom as possible, not exercise as much control as possible."

Speaking of the Progressive-Conservative party and its leader, John Bracken, Mr. Isley said:

"The party is the same old party which Canada has known for a century and its approach will be virtually the same old approach no matter what change has been made in its name and no matter how carefully its new leader has been imported."

As to the C.C.F., they have two or three fundamental principles to which they attach great value. The first is nationalization of industry.

Views On C.C.F.

"They are careful to point out that they would not nationalize all industry," Mr. Isley said. "When one reads their literature, however, it is clear that they would nationalize most of industry."

"Their definition of monopolies is so wide and all-embracing that it takes in most of the industry of Canada, and if they carry out their policies they will have to transfer to public ownership and operation most of the industry of Canada."

The minister said that coupled with the C.C.F.'s "passion" for nationalization was the belief in the efficiency of widespread regimentation and control directed from a central planning authority. "Under the C.C.F., nearly all of us would be pushed around a lot of the time by central planners."

Minister States Battle Of Reich To Be Decisive

PLYMOUTH, Jan. 24.—(CP)—

Air Minister Sir Archibald Sinclair, speaking here Saturday said the battle of Germany would rank with the battles of Stalingrad and the battle of the Atlantic among the decisive battles of the war.

"The great industrial Ruhr and Rhineland areas have been devastated," he added. "The port of Hamburg lies waste. Other cities where

"Stalemate" in Italy Now Appears Broken

By LEWIS HAWKINS

LONDON, Jan. 24.—(AP)—The Germans' hard-won and precious Italian stalemate apparently was smashed Saturday by the British-American landing deep in their rear.

Berlin had brought the deadlock by swiftly throwing about 25 first-rate divisions into Italy.

But if the new Allied lodgment sticks—and first reports indicated it would—Hitler will be forced to decide quickly whether to withdraw in haste from the southern line to save his troops from possible entrapment, to fight it out to the end with what he has in the battle area, or to send in fresh strength and try to rectify the disadvantage thrust upon him.

Jewish Refugees Coming to Canada

TORONTO, Jan. 24.—(CP)—

The first organized movement of European refugees to Canada since the outbreak of war, 25 Jewish families stranded in Portugal and Spain have started from Lisbon for temporary haven in Canada, M. A. Solkin, executive director of the Jewish Immigrant Aid Society of Canada, announced last night at the society's 24th annual assembly.

The refugees, who will travel in a neutral ship, come under policy announced some time ago by Resources Minister Crerar, who has jurisdiction over immigration.

A joint guarantee for the maintenance of the refugees in Canada has been issued by the United Jewish refugee and war relief agencies of the Canadian Jewish Congress and the Immigrant Aid Society.

129 Sask. Students Failing in Exams Leave University

SASKATOON, Jan. 24.—(CP)—

The registrar's office at the University of Saskatchewan announced Saturday that 129 students would be required to discontinue their studies at the university as a result of their failure to obtain satisfactory marks in the recent Christmas examinations. This figure includes men of callable age, men who have not yet reached callable age, and women.

The names of the male students of military age have been sent to the district officer commanding, Military District No. 12, Regina, in accordance with military regulations.

Refugee Board Is Established By Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—(AP)—

President Roosevelt created a war refugee board Saturday night and directed it to attempt the rescue of "the victims of enemy oppression who are in imminent danger of death."

The board consists of State Secretary Cordell Hull, Treasury Secretary Henry Morgenthau and War Secretary Henry Stimson who are empowered to appoint a full-time executive director to administer the refugee assistance program.

A White House statement said the President's action was designed to bring about immediate rescue from the Nazis of "as many as possible of the persecuted minorities of Europe—racial, religious or political—all civilian victims of enemy savagery."

An area in the United States as large as all of the New England states and Delaware and New Jersey has been laid waste by erosion.

Attack on Bari 'Personal Insult'

LONDON, Jan. 24.—(CP)—

The December air raid on Allied shipping at Bari, Italy, knocked into a cocked hat an unwary saying of a high R.A.F. officer. He must still be blushing.

During an interview just outside Bari, this high-ranker told a group of Empire war correspondents that he would "consider it a personal insult if one German bomber escorted by 20 fighters came this far south."

Only a few minutes later a few Nazi bombers—without fighter escort—began an attack on the Adriatic harbor, 150 miles south of the battlefield, that ended in destruction of 17 merchantmen.

The R.A.F. officer, who must remain unnamed, made his statement during a brief dissertation on waning German airpower in the Mediterranean area. His interview was granted on condition that he not be quoted directly.

It was so easy and simply done and caught the Germans so completely by surprise that as I write this dispatch six hours after the landing United States troops are literally standing with their mouths open and shaking their heads in utter amazement.

"Maybe," said Lt.-Col. Edgar C. Doleman, "the war is over and we don't know it."

LITTLE OPPOSITION

The landing forces swarmed ashore at 2 a.m. expecting to have to fight their way in over the beach through barred wire and minefields. I landed with the second wave at 2:10 a.m. Then we began walking, expecting each moment that the enemy would open up with a blinding flash of fire. But we just walked. Nothing happened in my sector. There were only a few scattered shots fired and most of them came from our own tense troops.

To our north there was a sound of gunfire but it was very light and at this early stage there was every indication that the 5th Army had pulled a brilliant manoeuvre to hit the enemy from the side and open the road to Rome.

May Form Third Labor Congress

VANCOUVER, Jan. 24.—(CP)—

In a move to unify independent all-Canadian unions, the executive board of the Amalgamated Building Workers of America has been instructed to explore the possibility of forming a third National Labor Congress.

The action was taken by delegates to the building workers' second annual convention here through a resolution which amended a previous motion from the floor that the Amalgamated seek affiliation with the Canadian Congress of Labor.

Such a congress definitely would not be in rivalry with either the C.C.L. or the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, said Sam Baxter, A.B.W.C. general secretary.

"It would be composed entirely of independent all-Canadian trade unions who have no international affiliation," he explained. "That was the main objection to joining the C.C.L. or the T.L.C. The Amalgamated has always been an all-Canadian organization and the members wish to continue it that way."

Delegates from British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan are attending the convention.

MOSCOW, Jan. 24.—(AP)—The

"Internationale" has become the hymn of the Communist Party. It was sung for the first time as "Party Hymn" at the end of a meeting on the anniversary of Lenin's death. The song had been the national anthem of the Soviet Union, but is being replaced by the "Hymn of the Soviet Union."

Vice-President Wallace Makes 'New Deal' Plea

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—(AP)—

Vice-President Henry Wallace, matched with Speaker Sam Rayburn of the House of Representatives in what may be described as an oratorical tryout for the 1944 United States vice-presidential nomination, drew shouts of "No, no" from some members of a Democratic gathering Saturday night when he declared that if the New Deal were dead "the Democratic party would be dead and well dead."

About 1,000 party members at the Jackson Day rally, all $100-a-plate contributors to the Democratic campaign fund, heard Wallace revive the "New Deal" term without referring to President Roosevelt's preferred new slogan of "Win the War."

Wallace stood beside Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and top party leaders as he cast aside his prepared manuscript and delivered a blast at "hirelings of special privilege" and a plea not to forget the "New Deal" because, he said, the "New Deal is Franklin D. Roosevelt."

The vice-president was applauded generously during his brief speech except for the "noes" at his remark that death of the New Deal meant the party's demise.

The Democratic National Committee earlier in the day made clear its fourth-term desires by adopting a resolution calling on President Roosevelt "to continue as our great world humanitarian leader."

Copyright, 1944, by the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—(AP)—

Speaker Sam Rayburn of the house of representatives rules a slight choice over Henry Wallace among members of the Democratic National Committee willing to express a direct preference for the United States vice-presidential nomination this year.

But with 18 and 14 "votes" respectively in a poll taken by the Associated Press, each is far short of a majority. Twenty-four members who voted "no preference" or reported they had not made up their minds, plus eight who declined to vote, or put in blank ballots, hold a heavy balance of power in the committee which has shown itself much more single-minded on wanting a fourth term for President Roosevelt.

LONDON, Jan. 24.—(CP)—The Daily Mail today published a story from its New York correspondent that it was a virtual "certainty" President Roosevelt would seek a fourth term, heading Saturday's call from the Democrat National Committee.

"Reliable inside information," said the Mail, "is that Roosevelt, neither by word or deed, will indicate in the next few months whether he will run but by mid-summer will allow himself 'reluctantly' to be drafted by the call of duty, party and patriotism. 'Much the same strategy used so successfully in the third-term movement is being adopted again.'"

U.S. Officers Aid Play Production

As good neighbors the Edmonton Little Theatre believes the U.S. Army can't be beaten.

In "The Eve of St. Mark," many of the scenes take place in army camps, embarkation platforms, and Jap-bombed South Pacific islands. The Little Theatre wardrobe was unable to outfit a large male cast with complete U.S. Army uniforms and field equipment. However, several major roles in the play are being played by U.S. Army men, who understand the difficulties of amateur play production. As well as turning in a splendid acting job at rehearsals, they approached the U.S. Army quartermaster in Edmonton and obtained issues of uniforms and equipment to outfit the entire soldier cast. Such individual effects as could not be supplied, the U.S. men loaned themselves, or borrowed from their army friends, with the result that not a sergeant's stripes or "tin hat" will be missing on opening night.

A feature of goodwill is the patronage of the play by the following American and Canadian officers: Maj.-Gen. W. W. Foster, C.M.G., D.S.O., V.D.; Brig.-Gen. D. W. Worham, U.S. Army; Brig.-Gen. D. V. Gaffney, U.S. Army; Lt.-Col. J. A. Dawson, R.C.N.V.R.; Lt.-Col. E. Brown, M.M., E.D.; and Group Capt. R. N. Smith, R.C.A.F.

"The Eve of St. Mark," directed by Elizabeth Sterling Haynes, is being presented on Jan. 26, 27 and 28, in Westglen Auditorium, with a special performance for service men and women on Jan. 25.

Police Force Can't Obtain Suitable Men

Consideration is being given to increasing the personnel of the police department, but it is not possible at this time to obtain suitable men, it was disclosed in a reply made by the city commissioners to a question asked by Ald. C. E. Gariepy, K.C., concerning the advisability of adding to the police force to combat the series of break-ins in the city recently.

The commissioners intimated also that additional automotive equipment has been ordered to enable the present force to operate more efficiently.

REPORT OF CHIEF

The following is a report from Chief of Police Reginald Jennings in answer to Ald. Gariepy's question:

"With regard to the above subject, I wish to report that at present the force is seven below established strength, but every effort is being made to increase it.

"In order to obtain the right type, applicants for the force require to be carefully chosen and investigated before being taken on, and in addition they must pass a medical examination.

"The required physical standard has been lowered somewhat, but the number making application is disappointingly small; possibly by reason of the appointment being only a temporary one, and the high wages being paid in other employment. However, I have reason to believe that the manpower situation is easing somewhat, and will result in an increase of applicants.

"The delivery of recently ordered mechanized equipment is expected daily, and upon its arrival the efficiency of the force will be greatly increased."

Army Women Dream of Frills, Furbelows in Post-War Life

OTTAWA, Jan. 24.—Kitchens, recipes, frilly aprons and weddings predominate in the C.W.A.C. idea of a post-war heaven. Answers to a questionnaire submitted to more than 100 Corps members in Ottawa revealed that 60 per cent of the army girls favored domesticity as a post-war goal.

Second to the 'heart's and flowers' group are those whose blazing individuality has been sublimated to a uniform. To them, peace will pre-arrange orgies of scarlet nail-polish, high-heeled toeless sandals and jade ear-rings.

Another group includes those who enlisted in the army straight from high school and colleges. Many of these young women have been taught a vocation and plan to replace their khaki skirt by a white collar.

Others merely sigh for lemon meringue, pie three times a day, steaks 'THAT thick' and caramel nut sundaes. The prize answer, however, came from one sleepy-eyed C.W.A.C. who said bitterly: "I am going to visit all the music stores in Canada and smash every bugle in existence."

Evans-McPhee Nuptials Held

In a ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, the marriage was solemnized recently of Miss Audrey Janet McPhee, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. McPhee of Beverly, and Pte. Meredith Evans, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Evans of Edmonton.

The bride wore a tailored dress of aquamarine blue trimmed with gold. Her Juliet cap was trimmed with a chapel veil edged with tiny blue velvet bows. A corsage of gardenias and sweetheart rosebuds completed her ensemble.

Miss Edna McPhee, cousin of the bride, was her bridesmaid wearing a two-piece dress of gold, a matching Juliet cap trimmed with brown veiling, and brown accessories. Her corsage was of Talisman roses and baby mums.

Best man was Bill Kuchinsky. Mrs. McPhee wore a two-piece frock of teal blue and a corsage of yellow roses. Mrs. Evans' gown was a powder blue afternoon model with which she wore a corsage of pink roses.

The bride's table was set with a hand made lace cloth and centred with a three tiered wedding cake. The rooms were decorated with silver bells and white satin ribbons.

IRISH GIRLS MISS BICYCLING JAUNTS

DUBLIN.—(CP)—Nowadays, the quickest way to an Irish girl's heart is not via a pair of silk stockings, but via a set of cycle tires and tubes, or even one tire.

Rubber shortage has driven most of the tires, if indeed, not all, into the Irish black market. Cycle dealers are supposed to get a percentage of their normal purchases, but in 12 months only a few have been able to buy a tire from a retailer in the normal way of trade. Dublin once was described as "the cyclingest city in Europe after Copenhagen."

Japs Report U.S.
Liberator Bombers
Attack Hong Kong
NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—(AP)—A formation of nine U.S. Liberator bombers, escorted by 15 P-40 fighters, attacking Hong Kong yesterday and another formation of 12 Liberators raided Tarao Island in the Marshall group, the Tokyo radio said today without Allied confirmation. The broadcast, recorded by United States government monitors, said Japanese fighters shot down three of the American raiders over Hong Kong and three more over Tarao.

Navy Planes Again
Hit Japanese Isle
WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—(AP)—
Vastly stepped-up aerial operations against enemy air and naval bases on Paramushiro island, at the northern end of Japan's chain of home islands, was indicated yesterday in a United States Navy announcement that American Navy bombers again have raided the island. The navy reported Saturday that two groups of navy planes had bombed enemy installations at the north and south ends of the island on Thursday.

Buck Says Canada
Is Not Yet Ready
For Socialization
TORONTO, Jan. 24.—(CP)—
Canada is not yet ready for socialization as proposed by C.C.F. spokesman, Tim Buck said here last night in an address during which he appealed to C.C.F. members to force their leaders to change their attitude towards the Labor-Progressive party. The Labor-Progressive party had raised repeatedly to obtain the co-operation and affirmation of the C.C.F., he said, but his overtures had been refused.

It is only six minutes by bomber plane from Dover, England, to Cala, nearest port of occupied France.

Linking of Canada,
Russia by Regular
Air Route 'Remote'
MONTREAL, Jan. 24.—(CP)—
The linking of Canada and Russia
by a regular air route over the Arctic regions will not take place "within predictable future," Professor Derwent Whitlesey, head of Harvard University geology and geography department, today told the Canadian Club.

The cost of establishing and maintaining landing fields between the settled areas of Canada and Russia, Mr. Whitlesey said, would be high and travellers would prefer already established routes.

Tremendous Tasks
Said Ahead at Sea
NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—(AP)—A.
V. Alexander, Britain's First Lord of the Admiralty, said in an address broadcast from London yesterday that the Allies now are definitely on top at sea, "but tremendous tasks lie ahead."

"The liberation of Europe," he said, "will impose colossal responsibility on the British and American navies and merchant services, far outstripping even the unprecedented combined operations for the capture of North Africa and Sicily, which required
the largest armada in world history, and the recent and present assault in Italy."

"Every ship of the enormous numbers being turned out by the United Nations, both naval and merchant, will be needed. There will be absolutely nothing to spare."

Favorite of Hitler
Failed in Attempt
To Escape Austria
STOCKHOLM, Jan. 24.—(AP)—
A Swedish girl who returned from Vienna recently told the newspaper
Allehanda that the Gauleiter of Vienna, Baldur von Schirach, was rumored to have planned an escape to Switzerland, in the manner of Rudolf Hess' flight to England, but the project collapsed when the SS (Elite Guard) learned of it.

Van Schirach, former Hitler youth leader and a favorite of Hitler, was reportedly placed under guard but retained his title of Gauleiter because of German fear that any outward change might reveal his disaffection.

Complete Absence
Of Motive Found
In Chicago Murder
CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—(AP)—A state's attorney official said today there was a "complete absence" of any established motive for the murder last Wednesday of Mrs.
Frank Starr Williams, wealthy wife of a state department official in Washington. Police have followed dozens of leads in their search for the middle-aged, well-dressed woman who fatally shot Mrs. Williams.

Portuguese Ship
Carries Refugees
LISBON, Jan. 24.—(AP)—The liner Nyassa, the first Portuguese passenger vessel bound on a trans-Mediterranean voyage since the war began, left here yesterday with 180 Jewish refugees, the majority of whom are going to Palestine.
They will be joined at Cadiz, Spain,
by 650 others who also are bound for Palestine. Among those making the voyage are Jews who have been in Portugal since 1933, when anti-
Semitic drives began in Germany.

Destroy Factories
STOCKHOLM, Jan. 24.—(AP)—
The Morgan Tindine said Saturday that the R.A.F. raid on Magde-burg Friday night had ruined a synthetic gasoline factory and a sugar factory in the German city. Four thousand tons of sugar were destroyed the Swedish newspaper added.

Arrives in U.K.
LONDON, Jan. 24.—(CP)—Col.
Elliott Roosevelt, son of President Roosevelt, has arrived here for duty as photo reconnaissance officer at strategic bombing headquarters.

Shatter - Proof
Windows Guard
Waist Gunners
LONDON, Jan. 24.—(CP)—Flying Fortress waist gunners now will be able to blaze away at Germans from behind protective shatter-proof windows instead of through open ports with gauges and temperatures of 50 or 60 below often freezing their hands.

Sealed windows have been developed through which the guns can be operated with no sacrifice of manoeuvrability.

Tremblay to Move
Address in Reply
To Throne Speech
OTTAWA, Jan. 24.—(CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King announced today the address in reply to the speech from the throne at the opening of the new session of parliament Thursday will be moved by L. T. S. Tremblay (Lib., Dorchester) and seconded by Walter
A. Tucker (Lib., Rosthern).

The Commons and the Senate
meet jointly at 3 p.m. Wednesday to prorogue the 14th session.

My Day

BY ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

NEW YORK.—Have I said anything to you before about the fact that this year the centennial year for the Y.M.C.A. Twelve young men started this organization in a hall bedroom and now there are 10,000 associations in 68 countries. In our own country today, 1200 associations with more than 10,000,000 members are participating in serving the armed forces in addition to maintaining their regular program.

The success of this association means that when you try to translate your religion into action in daily life, it has a great appeal for young people.

The United Council for Church Women is also trying to do some work that will require year round daily thinking and action. They have decided to observe "World Community Day" annually.

Mrs. Emory Ross, a vice-president of the United Council, said in a release to the press: "Out of the observance, has come a determination of church women all over the nation to continue to study the price of an enduring peace. The continued study by thousands of church women is a hopeful outlook. We look forward to observing this day annually, and through preparation for it and study classes after it, we are keeping Christian women constantly alert to international problems and spurring them to action to help solve them."

This again is bringing the influence of religion to bear on the citizenship of all people. I hope it may lead many women to feel that it is a religious duty to take responsibility for the attitude of their government.

Yesterday the eighth annual report of the Social Security Board of the Federal Security Agency was issued. I hope that every person reading it will think of it in connection with our economic bill of rights for America, as described in the President's message last Tuesday. The board urges a complete, unified social insurance system, providing to all people who work, protection against the "economic hazards besetting the long road of self-support and family support which is arduous and risky for most in any working generation."

About 20,000,000 workers are not yet covered by social insurance because of the restrictions in the existing program. These include farm workers and domestic workers, self employed, employees of federal, state and local government, employees of non-profit organizations, maritime workers and many employees of small firms. Tomorrow I would like to point out where the board feels the program is insufficiently developed.

McCoy Health Service

In the first place, it must be remembered that a person born with a tendency to a slender body belongs to the "race horse" type. A race horse is lean and becomes useless if an attempt is made to put weight on him and turn him into a plow horse. If you are naturally thin, you may be eating wisely and by exercising, hope to build up a graceful body of the race horse type, and you may look forward to a long life, but you can not reasonably expect to make yourself over into a heavy plow horse type.

The thin person needs to build up the health of the entire body, improving the efficiency of all of the body functions by such measures as diet and exercise. Eat only that amount of food which you are able to digest and depend upon the increased muscular development built up by exercise, for your chief gain. You will probably develop your muscles enough so that the body is given the pleasing curves which make it attractive.

The average thin person has developed some type of toxemia which is interfering with the normal assimilation of food and for this reason, I advise the fast at the start of the weight-gaining regimen, simply because the fast will cause the elimination of toxins. With the removal of such poisons, the patient will begin to feel better in every way and at the end of the short fast, will return to his regular meals with a greatly improved digestive power.

Therefore, if you are underweight give your body a thorough internal cleansing before you try to add those extra pounds. The best way to do that is to be willing to get thinner first, through the fasting regimen already mentioned. At the conclusion of the fast you will soon regain every ounce lost and several pounds beside, so do not worry about your temporary loss. You must also slow down your destructive "mental gymnastics," such as worry, anxiety and so on, at the same time that you increase your exercise and take deep breathing exercises. Balance each exercise with rest, to get the greatest good from it.

Also, plan to obtain plenty of sleep each night, and for a time plan to get to bed early every single night in the week. Ten hours' sleep is not too much at the beginning, when you are honestly trying to gain.

You must watch every factor in your daily life, which are keeping you thin and substituting those which bring abundant health. You will find your body will respond, and there will be a gradual gain in good, healthy, firm flesh. Simultaneously you will note a corresponding increase in endurance.

All questions regarding health and diet will be answered. Large stamped, self addressed envelope must be enclosed. Write on one side of paper only. Letters must not exceed 150 words. Address McCoy Health Service, The McCoy Building, 1151 West 6th Street, Los Angeles, Calif.

Churches Hear Sermons From Guest Pastors

Church services in the city were marked Sunday by the appearance of a five-member team of the University Christian Mission as guest preachers and the first services by the newly appointed Salvation Army divisional commander and his wife, Brig. Rufus R. Raymer and Mrs. Raymer.

The mission is sponsored by the world council of the churches, Canadian committee, and is making its first visit to the University of Alberta. The team has just concluded a visit to British Columbia and will leave for Winnipeg when the present session ends on Wednesday.

Dr. George P. Gilmour, chancellor of McMaster University at Hamilton, leader of the group, spoke at the morning service at First Baptist church.

He pointed out that there is no such thing as "liberty." Liberty is a treasure which can only be expressed through democracy by the people of a nation he said. Likewise, with religion. Religion is brought to us through a vessel—religious people.

Dr. Leslie Kilborn, dean of the West China University and editor of the Journal of the West China Border Research Society, said in services at McDougall United church and Robertson United church that "Christianity has revolutionized China intelligently, medically from disease, and in the freedom accorded to women."

EQUALITY OF WOMEN

"Equality of women is a fact today in China, more than in this country," Dr. Kilborn said. He pointed to Mme. Chiang Kai-shek as an example of a large group of such advanced thinking women in China today.

At the Metropolitan United church, Miss Gertrude Rutherford, principal of the United Church training school for women, said that "We must live for a world in which no child shall starve for food, clothes, shelter, or the things of the soul."

CURRENT EVENTS

The fourth guest preacher, the Rev. Hugh MacMillan, secretary of the Student Christian movement, and secretary of the Canadian committee of the World Council of the Churches, spoke on "Stirring Currents Among Youth" at the morning service at First Presbyterian church.

He pointed out the need for reaching "the moving populations" in wartime who "know very little about the church and some may even be antagonistic to church."

The Rt. Rev. W. P. Remington, bishop of the Episcopal church in eastern Oregon, issued a challenge in the morning sermon at All Saints' cathedral.

He called upon the people to "face a world in which God must again become the central figure in the solution of all problems."

"Science and invention have placed at man's disposal vast reservoirs of power, with which he may win an abundant life—or pull it all to pieces."

One of the largest congregations in several months gathered at the Salvation Army Citadel to welcome the new leaders, Brig. Rufus R. and Mrs. Raymer.

HELP SELVES

Brig. Raymer emphasized that "Men must be willing to help themselves. God is helpless to do anything unless they are willing to."

He referred to the story of the man at the Pool of Bethesda, whom Christ advised to stretch forth his hand and rise.

"One of the greatest needs of the world today is a revival of prayer," he said.

MORNING SERVICE

Mrs. Raymer, in the morning services at the Citadel said that, "It is not within God's plan that men and women shall remain small but grow into powerful instruments of influence for His service."

She called for a fuller development in the Christian life and said that the opportunities for development were without limit.

Minimum Weekly Wages Are Fixed For U.K. Miners

LONDON, Jan. 24.—(CP)—A national minimum weekly wage for Britain's 700,000 coal miners—£5 (about $22.50) for experienced underground workers and £4 10 shillings for surface workers—was announced Saturday night by the national tribunal for industry. Whether the new scale, effective immediately, would quiet the unrest in the industry with the worst strike record in Britain remained to be seen.

Australia Plans To Call Meeting Of Pacific Powers

CANBERRA, Jan. 24.—(CP)—Australia may sponsor a mid-year conference of the Pacific powers, including the United States, to discuss the security and post-war development of native populations. Discussion of problems affecting native peoples in the Pacific was proposed earlier in the current Australia-New Zealand conference. The regional defence zone for the South and Southwest Pacific outlined by the two dominions was authoritatively defined Saturday to include all the islands in the arc extending from Timor to the Western Samoas, including all of New Guinea, New Hebrides and the Solomons.

Sugar was made from milkweed by the French-Canadians.

Demonstrations Follow Latest Italo Landing

By JOHN COLBURN
STOCKHOLM, Jan. 24.—(AP)—The new Allied amphibious attack south of Rome inspired the Italian populace in northern Italy to violent demonstrations, particularly in the industrial cities, a dispatch from the Swiss border to the Norwegian Tidningen said yesterday.

In Genoa two German officers were killed during a skirmish and the Germans, in quick reprisal, executed eight Italian youths and locked up 28 more as hostages, the dispatch added.

At the same time Berlin dispatches from Swedish correspondents emphasized that German military chiefs were frankly worried by the new Allied attack which opened a new front ideal for operations of British and American armored forces on the plains leading to Rome.

COMPLETE SURPRISE

The correspondents of the newspaper Dagens Nyheter said German military experts admitted the Allied landing was a surprise to them and the high command now anticipates the possibility that the Allies may handily consolidate their extensive bridgehead.

Reserves have been rushed up by the Germans to combat 5th Army troops pouring into the Nettuno bridgehead but the surprise of the Allied flanking manoeuvre likely will alter drastically the entire Nazi defensive strategy in the battle for Rome, other Berlin dispatches said.

Swedish correspondents reported that Berlin military experts were worried whether, in view of the terrific Allied air superiority, the German command in Italy can get its reserves into action in time to save the situation.

CHOSE WRONG SECTOR

The Germans were prepared for some Allied amphibious flanking movement but Berlin reports three days ago indicated they expected it in the Gaeta Bay sector directly behind the Tyrrhenian end of the Nazis' winter line across Italy.

Berlin dispatches pointed out that from the Nettuno flatlands the Allies will be able to operate for the first time out of mountainous areas where difficult terrain has hampered mechanized operations and where the Germans were aided by natural defence barriers.

Counter Attack On Beachhead Fails to Come

By DON WHITEHEAD
WITH THE 5TH ARMY'S AMPHIBIOUS FORCES ON A BEACHHEAD SOUTH OF ROME, Jan. 24.—(AP)—This is the third morning of surprise in the 5th Army's daring landing behind enemy lines, for after more than 48 hours the Germans still have developed no counter-attack against the strengthening beachhead.

Under grey skies more troops, guns and supplies are parading across the beach. Tommies and doughboys improve their positions rapidly, with only token resistance in a few spots.

The astonishing ease with which the men swarmed onto their positions still is the main topic of conversation throughout the ranks. To a non-military observer it appears that if the surprise landing can be exploited quickly the enemy can be bottled up at Cassino and Rome may fall as a reward for the operation.

One of the most amazing feats of the landings south of Rome—other than the virtual lack of opposition—was the swiftness with which the troops got supplies ashore minutes behind the first assault wave.

Only 3,200 Auto License Rebates

Another indication of Alberta's unusually mild winter is contained in motor license refund figures issued Monday by Edmund Trowbridge, M.B.E., deputy provincial secretary.

Refunds on plates turned in by Jan. 10, the "cut-off" date, numbered 3,200, and license fees refunded totalled nearly $12,000, a decrease of 50 per cent over 1942 figures, when 7,000 refunds were made.

The refund paid on licenses turned in is 20 per cent of the annual license fee paid by a motorist. The refund for the 1943 year is only one-quarter of the money paid back when the refund plan was adopted several years ago. At that time, motorists "cashed in" to the extent of $45,000 a year.

In Mount Royal cemetery overlooking Montreal Saturday.

Thousands of war veterans, friends and admirers of the "grand old man" who as senior Protestant chaplain won the hearts of the Canadian Corps almost three decades ago, crowded Christ Church Cathedral and lined the sidewalks of University and St. Catherine streets to pay their final tribute. Burial was in the family plot on Mount Royal.

Many Hogs Die From Crowding Report States

The high death rate among hogs being shipped from place to place is mainly attributed to overcrowding according to the annual report presented by humane officer H. J. Jones, of the committee on livestock handling of the Edmonton Humane Society.

During 1943 395,000 hogs were inspected, 16,000 cattle, 9,000 calves, 10,000 sheep. There were 6,025 stock cars, 3,120 trucks and 185 trailers inspected. In all, 557 hogs were found dead on arrival at their destination; 739 found to be crippled on arrival at their destination.

Overcrowding is a factor which contributes to the cause of death and bruising among hogs and the calves, as does the lack of bedding on the floors of the cars and trucks. Thirty-two warnings were given and two convictions were obtained from this cause in stock cars alone, the report stated.

In the case of truck drivers 159 warnings were given and four convictions were obtained for the failure to provide separating partitions and a total of 322 warnings were given to both shippers by truck and rail; summonses were issued and 14 convictions obtained. There were 21 letters of warning sent to shippers for the infraction of shipping laws.

Annual report of Humane Officer A. Lawrence shows that in this period the following live stock were inspected and field work will give a comprehensive idea of the amount and nature of the work carried out by the society:

1,491 head of cattle, 2,396 calves, 13,180 hogs, 970 sheep and 1,857 horses, a total of 19,777 animals, were inspected during this period.

More than 300 telephone calls were received and as a result of these 282 investigations and inquiries were made and 18 cats and dogs were humanely destroyed. Seven persons were advised on the treatment of animals and nine animals were ordered for veterinary treatment.

Before the Magistrate

Fine of $300 and costs, with the option of three months in jail was the sentence imposed on William Sawchuk, who pleaded guilty to illegal sale of liquor before Magistrate A. J. Millar, K.C., in city police court Monday.

According to Detective Val Taylor, Police Officers Nelson and Lytle had "captured" the 15-year-old son of accused in the north end of the city Saturday night, when the boy failed to halt after police ordered him to do so.

The boy was clutching a 13-ounce bottle of liquor. He told the police his father told him to sell the liquor to a soldier for $10.

On further questioning the lad said he sold liquor twice previously for $10 a bottle, both times at the request of his father.

Detective Taylor said that the Sawchuk boy left school in grade 6.

The accused Sawchuk has not been in trouble with the police previously.

Peter Saik, who walked out of a barber shop with a pair of $15 eye-glasses belonging to a "customer" getting a shave, pleaded guilty to theft of the glasses and was sentenced to three months in jail.

Police said Saik was trying to sell the glasses at a second hand store. He had a long previous record of thefts and convictions against him.

Seven men who pleaded guilty to being keepers of gaming houses were fined after pleading guilty as charged.

Those convicted, with the sentences imposed, are as follows: W. Fraser, $50 and costs or two months; Pat St. Peter, $35 and costs or 35 days; W. Rose $75 and costs or three months; Rodney Chisholm $75 and costs or three months; Ray Schultz $75 and costs or three months; Theodore Johnson $35 and costs or three months.

High German, Fascist Chiefs Fleeing Rome

MADRID, Jan. 24.—(AP)—The road out of the Italian capital is filled with official cars of both Germans and Italian fascist authorities fleeing because of the threat of Allied forces pressing in from the south, diplomatic reports from Rome declared yesterday.

The German quartermaster corps headquarters have been moved north to Florence and the communications centre for the German army commands has been moved back to Chiari, 82 miles northwest of Rome, the reports said.

PREPARE DEFENCES

Only the military has been left to prepare defence positions on the outskirts of Rome as the Allies consolidate their bridgehead around Nettuno, these reports continued.

It was added that all telephone service between Rome and the north has been closed to civilians and Italian officials by the German military commander of the area and only the briefest diplomatic dispatches are permitted to be sent from Rome by neutrals.

It is evident here that German concern over the possibility that an invasion of France will come in a double-header attack from both the Atlantic and the Mediterranean is no longer a secret but is shown by elaborate defence preparations along the coast from the Pyrennes to Marseille.

Not only has a curfew been established from sundown to sunup along this coast but even doctors, before they leave their homes for urgent cases, must telephone the local German command to obtain armed German motorcycle escort.

All boats of all categories either have been commandeered by the German army or destroyed. Additional units of the German labor corps have arrived at Perpignan to rush work on a new military airport there where five metal hangars already have been completed.

Impudent Thief

Takes Trousers, Wallet, Money

George Smith, 10262 98 street, believes he has been the victim of Edmonton's most impudent thief.

Early Sunday someone entered his room while he was sleeping, grabbed Smith's trousers, which contained a wallet with $41 in cash and departed.

Smith gave chase as far as his night attire would permit but the intruder made good his escape out of the building.

To make matters really bad Smith's suspenders were on his trousers.

Police are investigating.

Costs of six weeks; Alvin Kirkham $50 and costs or two months.

All charges were laid in connection with operation of a betting book on horse races. Police state the book has been closed.

Raymond McDonald was fined $50 and costs, and had his driver's license suspended for six months, after pleading guilty to dangerous driving. Police stated his car struck a railway train at Kingsway and 121 avenue.

Fred Appleby was fined $10 and costs or 14 days for assaulting a waitress in a city cafe.

Red Officers Visit Italian Front

Their reputations as highly capable and tough commanders in their respective sectors during the German drive on Moscow last winter firmly established, the three Russian Army officers shown above were part of a group of Russian military observers who spent some time on observation duty with the Allied forces in Italy. Left to right: Major-General Vasilyev, Major-General Solodovnik and Colonel Sudakov.

Dill Tells Need For Confidence Among Allies

DETROIT, Jan. 24.—(CP)—Field Marshal Sir John Dill, senior British representative on the Combined Chiefs of Staff Board at Washington, today praised the part United States mass production of munitions and armaments has played in the United Nations' war effort and stressed necessity for continued co-operation and confidence among the Allies.

"It is not just quantitative production of which I would speak in high praise," he said in an address prepared for delivery to the Economic Club of Detroit. "But it is also qualitative production in which you have excelled. The most and the best is something of which to be really proud."

He added praise for industrial workers in Great Britain and throughout the Empire.

Sir John spoke of the "equally remarkable production of Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa, and of India."

Co-operation among the United Nations would prove the key to victory, Sir John said, but by that he did not mean that these countries should never disagree. "It would be fatal if we were all 'yes men' to each other... mutual confidence and friendship are but poor growths if they will under criticism and straight honest-to-God differences of opinion."

Doubts Thieves Get Information Of Military Use

SEATTLE, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Rep. Warren G. Magnuson (Dem., Wash.) said Saturday he doubted seriously if the thieves who stole his luggage and private papers at Vancouver, B.C., last week obtained any valuable military information—even assuming they were enemy agents.

Magnuson disclosed in an interview that his luggage was stolen from his automobile in front of a Vancouver hotel while he was eating breakfast.

Besides his apparel for a projected trip to Alaska, the congressman lost all his personal papers and documents and a confidential communication from Navy Secretary Knox to Vice Admiral Frank Jack Fletcher, commander of the western sea frontier at Adak, Alaska.

Yesterday Magnuson said he had received no further word from Canada and that the loss was more provoking than serious.

Capt. Richard L. Neuberger, aide-de-camp to Brig. Gen. J. A. O'Connor, drove from Seattle to Vancouver with Congressman Magnuson in the latter's car. Neuberger, who is a personal friend of Magnuson's, is now in Edmonton for several days. He said he knew nothing of the incident involving theft of the congressman's papers.

Neuberger told The Bulletin that Magnuson, who is chairman of the Alaska International Highway Commission as well as a member of the Naval Affairs Committee, planned to visit Edmonton and the Alaska Highway in April.

"Congressman Magnuson was one of the first men to propose a land route to Alaska," Neuberger said, "and he is most anxious to see the route for himself and to study all the problems and possibilities which it involves."

Japs Pushed Back On Burma Front

NEW DELHI, Jan. 24.—(CP)—Allied ground forces slowly pushing the Japanese back on two widely-separated Burma fronts reported new successes yesterday both in the Mayu peninsula in the southwest and the Chindwin valley in the northwest.

On the Mayu front, where the Allies have been expanding their toe hold in bitter hand-to-hand fighting, an Allied southeast Asia communique said another enemy-occupied village had been captured near Maungdaw north of Akyab and several positions in the hills east of the Mayu range had been occupied both east and west of Butheaus.

In the Upper Chindwin valley, "slight progress was reported by our troops, who inflicted a number of casualties on the enemy," the communique said. An announcement last Thursday indicated that a new Allied thrust was in progress in that area.

Late Official Of "Y" Tortured By Gestapo Men

The recent death of William J. Brown, for many years the Y.M.C.A.'s American representative in Rumania, recalls the brutality and torture inflicted upon him by the German Gestapo before his release in January two years ago.

Mr. Brown had been widely known in Bucharest and Rumania for his work among Rumanian and Polish refugees.

The Germans knew his work too and immediately upon declaration of war on the United States by Germany, the Gestapo men arrested him as an American citizen at Sviengrad, 40 miles from the Turkish border as he was on his way out of the country.

GIVEN GRUELLING

Returned to Bucharest, Brown was put through a gruelling in order to find out what he "had done with the funds for Polish relief" and the details of the espionage work they insisted he was engaged in.

In relating the torture at the time of his return to the United States, Brown said "they put me through the third degree. I was stripped and hung to a rod by the wrists while the stool was pulled from under me. They kicked me in the kidneys and walloped me.

"They wanted to have information about the work at our legation and, I think, get some money from me. I hung there for forty-five minutes, then they let me loose and one of the guards twisted my wrists so that bones cracked.

"I was questioned and beaten till 4:30 a.m., when they took me back into my cell. I was pretty much of a wreck by then. I had only black bread and watery soup during the five other days of my imprisonment."

FINALLY RELEASED

At the intervention of Rumanian Premier Mihail Antonescu, Brown was finally released and he and his wife left with the American official group for Lisbon on Jan. 27.

Prior to his sudden death in Washington, D.C., on Dec. 26, 1943, Brown was working in the U.S. state department in preparation for special service in eastern Europe.

Born in Florence, South Carolina, Brown had been Rumanian representative of the International Y.M.C.A. committee for 21 years.

Officials Invited To "Y" Meeting

Mayor John W. Fry and Mrs. Fry have been invited to attend the 35th annual meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association Tuesday night.

Some of the other guests invited include Mrs. E. P. Wellwood, general secretary of the Y.W.C.A.; Miss Lillian Thomson, director of the Council of Social Agencies; Mrs. M. C. McCannell, president of the board of directors of the Y.W.C.A.; Reg. T. Rose, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce; Dr. F. G. McNally, deputy minister of education; Mr. Harold L. Weir, chairman of the Northern Alberta War Services Council.

The guest speaker at the meeting, R. E. G. Davis, director of the Canadian Youth Commission, who will speak on "A Program of Youth in Post-War Canada," will be introduced by Stuart Harris, of the Y's Men's Club.

Waldo F. Empey, president of the Young Men's Christian Association will be chairman.

Youth Commission To Study Problems

The Alberta Co-Operating committee of the Canadian Youth Commission will meet Monday night at the Y.M.C.A. at 8 p.m. Reg. T. Rose, chairman of the committee, will preside at the meeting.

The meeting, which will be attended by R. E. G. Davis, director of the Canadian Youth Commission, as well as representatives from the city's youth groups, will discuss how best they can co-operate in obtaining and presenting the views of youths and adults working with young people.

It is also expected that the meeting will discuss possibilities of holding a series of youth hearings in the province where views can be publicly expressed and considered, and to which written reports may be submitted.

The results of the discussions and meetings in the province will then be turned over to the Canadian Youth Commission for analysis and consolidation.

Bus, Train Crash Takes Eight Lives

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Eight persons were killed and ten injured last night in the collision of a crack Wabash passenger train and a city bus near a suburban railroad station.

Five victims died in the bus which caught fire after it was dragged a block before the train came to a stop. Three bodies were found along the right-of-way.

The Wabash train, en route to St. Louis from Detroit, was delayed 90 minutes at the crash scene before it proceeded to the suburban station. None of the train passengers was injured.

Train Engineer F. L. Dolson, Decatur, Ill., said he did not see the bus until an instant before the crash.

Eleven-year-old Guybert Barnes crawled through a broken window of the bus and was burned slightly as he pulled his brother to safety.

Canadian Soldiers Bury Comrade in Italy

Urges Prison Sentence For False Alarms

Suggestion that any person or persons found guilty of turning in a false alarm be sentenced to a prison term at hard labor is contained in a communication from Fire Chief James Macgregor in reply to a question asked by Ald. H. D. Ainlay, relative to the provision of devices designed to prevent false alarms.

The prison sentence, in Chief Macgregor's opinion, might be the best way to bring the seriousness of this situation to the public. He points out that during 1943 there were 125 false alarms, compared with 63 the previous year. The record in the past eleven years in 1935 when 184 false alarms were answered by the fire brigade.

"DEVICES" UNSATISFACTORY

He stated that, although fire departments and fire alarm box manufacturers in the United States have been giving this matter serious consideration and have tried various methods of reducing the number of false alarms there is nothing on the market yet which will give satisfactory results in assisting the departments to lessen the number of false alarms.

Commenting on the handcuff system, Chief Macgregor stated that this system was tried in one city without success, due to the time lost in releasing a person from the handcuffs when such time may have been the means of saving a life at the scene of the fire. He points out also the possibility of persons getting their hands frozen while awaiting release by the department.

General Strike Of Labor Urged

LONDON, Ont., Jan. 24.—(CP)—A suggestion by a member of London Labor Council that "every labor man in Canada go on strike" when a new government wage order goes into effect Feb. 15 was applauded yesterday at a meeting of the council, which passed a resolution condemning the order as "detrimental to all workers." The resolution will be forwarded to Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

Tanker Burns

LEWES, Del., Jan. 24.—(AP)—The small coastal tanker Plattsborg Socony burst into flames in a collision with the 8,000-ton Liberty ship Charles Henderson in the Atlantic ocean five miles off Delaware Capes, and a navy officer reported Saturday that one seaman was missing and four others were burned. The flames were later controlled.

Still in Vogue Up North

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Writer

Stan Peffer is out of the far north today on his annual two-month business trip—and if the jaunt weren't urgent he would take the next plane back to Aklavik, North West Territories.

Rubbing Noses "Out" in North

Rubbing noses as a form of greeting or affection is outdated with the Eskimos at Aklavik in Canada's Northwest Territories. "That's old stuff," Stan Peffer, Aklavik fur trader, said in an interview today.

"They kiss, or smooch, as some people call it, just like the white man. As a matter of fact they might be able to teach us something about the art," he said.

Peffer, who has lived amongst the Eskimos since 1931, says the change-over to the white man's ways has been gradual in the last decade. "Most of the Eskimo women and men are good cribbage players but so far they've steered clear of those afternoon bridge games."

Aklavik is about 2,000 miles northwest of Edmonton.

"War" on Pigeons Urged by Women

Pigeons that swarm around the city market and other public buildings will be declared "Enemies No. 1" if a resolution sponsored by the Edmonton Local Council of Women is given effect.

In a communication to the city council the Local Council of Women ask the "city council to take some means to dispose of the pigeons which swarm around public buildings in Edmonton, especially those close to the market square." The communication states that "we are told pigeons are carriers of disease and they do create a great deal of filth."

The question will be debated at the city council meeting on Monday night.

Need Planning To Meet Basic Needs of Youth

Planning in concrete terms to meet basic youth needs is the main function of the Canadian Youth Commission, R. E. G. Davis, Toronto, director of the commission, stated on his arrival here to confer with Reg. T. Rose, chairman of the Alberta committee, and Dr. G. Fred McNally, deputy minister of education for the province, and national chairman of the commission's committee on education.

Mr. Davis said that when the fighting is over the youth of Canada must fare better than some of them did during the depression. Suitable opportunity must be found in post-war Canada; opportunity for employment, which is primary, and also for education, recreation, and health services, and more important still, the opportunity to serve their country and feel they are needed in peace as well as in war.

The youth commission had its origin in the national council of the Y.M.C.A., which assumed major responsibility for securing funds and selecting the nucleus of the commission. The commission, however, is an independent and autonomous body, Mr. Davis said.

Its work is to formulate proposals relative to the welfare of Canadian youth in the post war period and to promote their acceptance by government, and public and private agencies which have responsibilities in this field.

TO HAVE HEARINGS

To get the views of youth and organizations interested in youth, provincial hearings will be held during the course of the next 12 months, and it is probable that sittings of the commission will be held here this spring.

"It is especially desired that young people themselves, in the armed forces, on farms, at school and college, in church groups and in social and recreational agencies, regard the commission as a channel through which they can make their needs known and play a distinctive part in shaping the conclusions that are reached," he stated.

Briefs are invited on all phases of the post-war problems of Canadian youth.

eral schedule amounts only to $7,687.61.

For the information of council it is pointed out that the whole matter of municipal fire insurance in the different municipalities of Canada is now being taken up by the Mayors and Municipalities Conference, and that George Mooney, Montreal, will lead discussion on this question at the next conference.

FAVORS PROPOSITION

He has asked permission to reprint the entire report made by Commissioner John Hodgson on the subject of municipal fire insurance, and is circulating each municipality. The Hodgson report proposes that steps be taken to form a Canada Municipal Mutual Fire Insurance Co. Mr. Mooney has indicated that he favors strongly this proposition and will urge its adoption at the conference meeting.

The question of providing a day nursery in Edmonton will come before council again. The Central Committee of War Auxiliaries has asked in a resolution that the city council accept its responsibilities in regard to this project and to use its influence to promote it.

The commissioners, reporting to council on interviews with Premier Ernest C. Manning and Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health, state they "are still of the opinion that this is a matter entirely for the Dominion government as an integral part of the war effort."

PROPOSAL ON COSTS

It is pointed out that under the proposed agreement the province will pay 25 per cent of the gross cost of operation, and will not ask for any portion of the receipts obtained by way of fees from parents of children accommodated. The Dominion government will pay 50 per cent of the gross operating cost and will require 50 per cent of all fees collected, leaving the other 50 per cent for the city's benefit.

The Dominion government will not advance any money to purchase a building, but if a building is rented from other than the province or municipality the rental may be considered an item chargeable in the gross operating costs.

The Dominion government will not assume any portion of the cost of alterations and renovation in excess of $100 unless agreed to by the minister of labor. Any building to accommodate 50 children will cost considerable money for necessary changes, especially if air-conditioning is involved.
